GUARANTEE POLICY

If, for any reason, the Nanny leaves or care is terminated within 16 weeks of hire (eight weeks for a summer nanny), there will be a new referral fee for a new nanny. However, client will receive a prorated credit towards a new nanny, based on the number of weeks the Nanny was employed. Client's final fee will be divided by 16 weeks (eight weeks for a summer Nanny) and a credit will be given for the weeks the Nanny was NOT employed. After the Nanny leaves, this credit may be used at any time for future services.

EXAMPLE: If the final fee was $2000.00 and the Nanny leaves after four weeks, the credit will be:

The final fee was $2000/16 (Guaranteed weeks) = $125 per week.

$125 per week x four weeks = $500.00 (Guarantee used)

$2000.00 (Final fee) - $500 (Guarantee used) = $1500.00 (Guarantee credit)

Client hereby recognizes that a written Nanny and Parent Agreement is instrumental in the nanny staying on the job. Parent hereby acknowledges that this credit policy will be null and void without such an agreement, and that a copy of the agreement must be received in this ACN office within TWO WEEKS of hire.

Household Employer's Disclosure

Household Employee versus Independent Contractor: You have a household employee if you hired someone to do childcare/household work. The worker is your employee if you can control not only what work is done, but how it is done.

According to the IRS, if only the worker can control how the work is done, the worker may not be your employee but as self-employed (independent contractor). A self-employed worker (independent contractor) usually provides his or her own tools and offers services to the general public as an independent business.

Household Employer Responsibility Information: As a Household employer you are to act in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act and IRS Publication 926, Household Employers Tax Guide.

The Fair Labor Standards Act- The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (referred to as "the Act" or "FLSA") establishes minimum standards for both wages and overtime entitlement. The Act spells out administrative procedures and provisions related to child labor standards and equal pay.

(a.) Covered nonexempt employees are entitled to a minimum wage of not less than $6.55 per hour. If an employee works in a state with a minimum wage of more than $6.55 per hour, the employee should pay that state amount. Maryland's minimum wage is currently $6.15 per hour, on July, 24, 2009 it will increase to $7.25 per hour.

(b.) Employees who do not live with their employers are eligible for overtime pay at a rate of not less than 1.5 times their regular rate of pay. This is required after 40 hours of work in 7 consecutive days. The laws vary from state to state and the employer needs to refer to state law.

Workers Compensation- Most states require a household employer to carry a workers compensation and/or disability policy if the employer employs someone on a full time or part time basis.

(a.) Employers in the State of Maryland are required to obtain workers' compensation insurance.
(b.) Employers having questions should contact the State of Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission at: <http://www.wcc.state.md.us/>

Household Employers Tax Guide, (Publication 926)- This publication will help you decide whether you have a household employee and, if you do, whether you need to pay state and federal employment taxes (social security tax, Medicare tax, state and federal unemployment tax, and state and federal income tax withholding). It explains how to figure, pay, and report these taxes for your household employee. It also explains what records you need to keep.

(a.) If you pay your nanny cash wages of $1,700 or more in 2009, all cash wages you pay to that employee in 2009 (regardless of when the wages were earned) you are required to pay social security and Medicare wages.

(b.) You are not required to withhold state and federal income tax from wages you pay a household employee. You should withhold state and federal income tax only if your household employee asks you to withhold it and you agree. Most nannies prefer the employer to withhold state and federal income tax from wages.

(c.) This publication also tells you where to find out whether you need to pay state unemployment tax for your household employee.

GTM Household Employer Experts- GTM is a household tax, payroll and human resource management service.

(a.) They offer complete tax and payroll services for households who employ a nanny including paycheck calculation and distribution, direct deposit, tax savings, and electronic tax filing.

(b.) They make sure their clients comply with state and federal regulations.

(c.) Employers having questions should contact GTM at 888-432-7972 (M-F 8:30 a.m. – 6 p.m. EST) or <http://www.gtm.com/>

Client hereby recognizes and acknowledges that they have been advised of the Household Employer's Disclosure and provided the name and telephone number of a payroll tax service from A Choice Nanny.
